Dear Mr. Thuermer:

Many months and Congressional reports ago, I wrote you about the possibility of The Weekly's doing a story on a CIA employee. In light of the recent flak you all have been taking, I'd like to renew that request.

As you may have noted, we are doing frequent profiles of federal workers, exploring what they do and what they find satisfying and frustrating about their work. I'm enclosing a couple of samples of our past efforts. Perhaps in intelligence, operations or research and development you could locate for us someone whose positive contributions could be written about.

On another note: I, unfortunately, am not old enough to remember Bill Nye and I'd love to see his history of the United States. I'll take you up on your offer to drop out sometime.

Sincerely,

William Nye Curry
